

MDRGC 2014 Wrap Up Match: October 25, by Jim Latham

Well we wrapped up our most successful season to date with another good event, requiring two relays. That has been our norm now for some time. For those of you who are trying to set up a Rimfire group (a question I am frequently asked) I think we have figured out what you need to make it successful:

1. An inspirational guru who has the respect of everyone- we have Bob Goehring
2. A drill sergeant who keeps everything running smoothly, or else he starts singing- we have Dave Harris
3. An expectation that everyone will contribute some volunteer time to prep the range, clean up, mark and score, etc. – we have that in spades. Everyone whose name you see in the results below helps- indeed they look for ways to help without asking most of the time
4. A website that provides information on what we do; Check out <http://www.missionrodandgun.com/rifle/22benchrest>
5. Both factory and benchrest classes so there is a way in with “watcha got? Bring it?”
6. A regular time that you meet monthly- in our case it is the 4th Saturday of each month generally and will be in 2015 as well
7. Stick to that schedule regardless of your initial numbers and be patient; it takes time to build momentum
8. At least one major Championship event
9. A place to go to compare stories after the match-we have a catered clubhouse- we are lucky there.
10. A wrap up that has some fun targets and a final luncheon just for fellowship
11. And most importantly a genuine willingness to welcome, mentor, share information and share in bulk buying of ammo in particular. All the suppliers will give you a discount and the saving on shipping matters too.
12. As a result we all of the above we shoot better (some of the time) and the competition gets tighter which is more fun of course. So members of MRDRGC’s BR50 Group, take a selfie putting your back for another fine season of shooting and camaraderie.
